Issue 4

Welcome to the fourth issue of the Midland Community Hub Project e-newsletter. If you've missed our previous updates or you want to know more about the project you can visit our website.

Location update

In the previous issue of this e-newsletter, we mentioned that we were on the hunt for a home for the Midland Community Hub, based on feedback from the Midland community about where they want the hub to be located and what services it should provide.

This search is continuing, and while finding a home for the hub been a challenging process, we are confident we are close to securing a location. We will let you know the location as soon as it is confirmed.

About the architects

We've hired local architectural firm SPH Architects to help us bring our vision for the Midland Community Hub to life.

Even though a location for the hub hasn't been finalised, there is still plenty of work being done behind the scenes in collaboration with the architects to prepare for the design phase of the project.

At the moment we are finalising a large document called a functional brief, which tells the architects how we need the hub to work to meet the needs of staff and clients.

Aboriginal Yarning Session

When we conducted a survey of people in the Midland area last year, one of the key pieces of feedback we received was that the Midland Community Hub should be welcoming and culturally sensitive for Aboriginal families.

To build on this feedback we held a yarning session in May, where a group of Aboriginal residents in the Midland area shared more about what they would like to see in the hub and how the hub can best support the Aboriginal community. Thank you to everyone who attended.
